9. Corroborating the content of the discipline with the expectations of the epistemic community, professional associations and representative employers within the field of the program

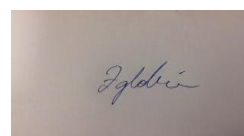

Global and European linguistic policies try to respond to the labour market demand and to the international research standards, in this regard, foreign languages for academic purposes and for specific purposes become a sine qua non condition for a strong academic and professional preparation.

10. Evaluation

Type of activity	10.1 Evaluation criteria	10.2 Evaluation methods	10.3 Share in the grade (%)
10.4 Course	• Presentation of a specific area from the personal research field	Oral exam	60%
	• The correctness of the accumulated knowledge.
10.5 Lab activities	• The elaboration of an academic article according to all the principles studied throughout the seminars	Presentation of an article	40%
10.6 Minimum performance standards
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Each student has to prove that (s)he acquired an acceptable level of knowledge and understanding, that (s)he is capable of stating these knowledge in a coherent form. Attendance to laboratory activities is mandatory as well as the presentation of the article. Successful passing of the exam is conditioned by the final grade that has to be at least 5.
